Hi Priyanka,

I was about to write you an email before I found this one in my inbox already.

We are delighted to inform you that the shipment arrived last week at our place and we confirm that everything is in a perfect condition, as expected.

I must admit that I am really impressed by the way you have managed the entire process single handily. I understand that there were few delays and out of turn request from my end, which were addressed by you and your team very patiently.

It was a pleasure to avail your services and having you as our coordinator for the shipment.

All the best for your future projects and keep up the good work.

Cheers!
Sandeep
